

EFEKTY KSZTAŁCENIA DLA KIERUNKU STUDIÓW
FINANSE I RACHUNKOWOŚĆ W JĘZYKU ANGIELSKIM
 STUDIA DRUGIEGO STOPNIA – PROFIL AKADEMICKI

Efekty kształcenia dla kierunku studiów FINANSE I RACHUNKOWOŚĆ Po ukończeniu studiów drugiego stopnia na kierunku studiów FINANSE I RACHUNKOWOŚĆ absolwent:
WIEDZA
	Is aware of problems of economic nature related to a number of fields and aspects of functioning of companies in external environment
	Is able to define financial processes taking place in the economic structures
	Has a knowledge of interconnections between state, society and economy, and tools of it's analysis knows how cultural factors do influence the functioning of the companies on national and international market has a knowledge of advanced IT tools of data gathering and analysis has a knowledge of professional and ethical standards related to finance and accounting has a knowledge of national legal framework and international standards of finance/accounting has knowledge of the core meaning of social responsibility in business has a knowledge of structures, concepts and processes (including change processes) within organizations.
	has a knowledge of intellectual property rights protection and it's significance.
	has knowledge of key elements of corporate accounting process has a knowledge of financial sources of current business activities as well as company's development Umiejętności
	Is able to analyse processes and financial/accounting phenomena in business environment
	Is able to select and apply tools and theoretical concepts to analyse financial / accounting processes

	Is able to analyse financial and accounting processes and phenomena, formulate hypothesis and verify them
	Is able to conduct a complex analysis of a company, its environment and define directions of future changes
	Is able to conduct a critical analysis of company's financial sources Applies theoretical concepts to effective management of financial processes in organizations
	Is able to recommend solutions to concrete business problems as well as make decisions required to execute them
	Prepares advanced written reports in study language or other foreign language taking into consideration wide context of analysed organizations
	Prepares and conducts professional oral presentations in study language or other foreign language in the area of specialization
	Has language proficiency in the field of finance and accounting at the level of B2+
	Interprets in-depth and explains phenomena observed in organizations
	Is able to apply available tools to access the financial values
	Is able to use IT tools and apply them to data analyses Kompetencje społeczne
	Is able to set the priorities aiming at completing a given task
	Is able to use various sources of information to in order to solve business problems
	Has well-defined professional goals and is able to support the idea of life-long learning
	Is able to work cooperatively within an organization and its external environment
	Is prepared to participate in social projects and is able to assess their results Possesses social competencies to communicate and cooperate with an organizational environment
	Is able to address opportunities and threats for an organization

	Is able to identify business dilemmas and apply ethical norms and professional regulations to solve them, both as an employee and a manager
	Is able to justify their opinions and decisions	