Look no further: Kozminski Master in Applied Global Economics is the optimal blend of knowledge and skills that will surely satisfy your curiosity and boost your career. It will be rewarding for you, providing you with both challenge and satisfaction you've been looking for.

Waldemar Karpa, Ph.D.
Leader of the Master in Applied Global Economics Program

The contemporary world economy is characterized by dynamic changes and growing interdependence. The more and more competitive markets will be won by those who understand how the economic processes taking place in different parts of the world influence and interpenetrate each other. Applied Global Economics studies not only allow you to understand how the global economy works, but also provide instruments for analyzing and measuring the impact of economic and political mechanisms on the situation of consumers, enterprises and national economies.

Prof. Jacek Tomkiewicz, Ph.D.
Dean of the College of Finance and Economics

Warsaw – the Capital of Poland

Warsaw, the rebuilt capital of Poland, has transformed over the last years into a sprawling urban and commercial center; now inhabited by more than 1.75 million people of all ages and nationalities. Full of contrasts, Warsaw appears never to run short of challenges and opportunities both for professional growth and rich social life.

Housing numerous international corporations such as Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan Chase, Citi, KPMG, and AXA as well as playing host to diverse multinational business and cultural events, Warsaw amazes with a haunting, yet functional, combination of traditional and ultra-modern tendencies.
